

This company does not deserve to be allowed to continue.
They have tried to seal the company from it's rightful shareholders in order to make hugh financial gains for themselves.
They issued false statements about the company, saying that it was doing great. Because of this, I invested on XOXO, only to be told weeks later that my stock was worthless.